

Choice

*... You know, I`ve been talking with so many people and... with our conversations I realised that:
it doesn`t matter what happens... we always have a choice...*

So many questions and so few answers too many whys and too many hows
Almost every little thing that happens in your life
There`s nothing else, but your choice (no exceptions)

Do you wanna be free
What are the things you`re standing for
This is your life I`m talking about
so do you wanna be free?!

You know what I`m saying? It`s all about the choice...

Almost everytime we are blaming someone else
Starting from yourself to anyone or anything you know
Of course, this is one way how to live your precious life
But we both also know that there could be another choice for you

Do you wanna be free
What are the things you`re standing for
This is your life I`m talking about
so do you wanna be free?!

*If you could just think that there`s no such thing as coincidence or Faith
there is just consequences and with our actions - that`s how we create our Faith*

Do you wanna be free

What are the things you're standing for

This is your life I'm talking about

so do you wanna be free?!

What is your choice? What is your choice in your life?

Do you really wanna be free?

You've got your choice.