

A Song To A Friend

I`ve been away, for way too long
I ran away from you, wanted to hide my pain
But now I am here, and yes - I`m a bit scared
`Coz there is something I wanna say:

I wanna hold you in my arms and start to apologize
For the things I`ve said and done for being so cruel
Please would you give me another chance I`ll understand if you won`t
God, I`ve missed you so much, I wanna be your friend... again

I have a great life, at least so it seems
I`ve traveled around the world
But there`s no place like in your heart
And what is the sense to have it all
If there`s no friend like you to share it with

I wanna hold you in my arms and start to apologize
For the things I`ve said and done for being so cruel
Please would you give me another chance I`ll understand if you won`t
God, I`ve missed you so much, I wanna be your friend... again

*Now you know how I really feel
I`ve waited all these years to sing this song to my friend*

I wanna hold you in my arms and start to apologize
For the things I`ve said and done for being so cruel
Please would you give me another chance I`ll understand if you won`t
God, I`ve missed you so much, I wanna be your friend... again
